

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. As I understand it, they are obligated to air both sides of issues since they operate over the airwaves, not cables or satellites. Color me outraged at their arrogance and one sidedness.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
